

PROTECT EVERY PARK

The National Park Service turns 109 years old on August 25!

On August 23, 2025, communities across the country will gather at national parks, historic sites, and public lands to call for:

- Continued funding and staffing of our parks
- Protecting small parks that support local communities
- No erasure of our national history

Join the national movement to #ProtectEveryPark and ensure NPS sites like Amache continue to tell all of America's stories.

Some ways you can get involved:

- Find an event near you
- Thank your NPS staff
- Call your members of Congress, or write and send them an Amache crane!
- Share your actions on social media

For more details and ideas, visit:
<https://www.npsa.org/campaigns/day-of-action>

Image: Amache Summer Carnival Parade, 10 July 1943. National Archives.